Dear Mr. Mermelstein:

It would not be prudent for The Die-Gem Co., Inc to agree to the terms in the revised Agreement of Confidentiality.

Once the Confidential Information is in the hands of Omnova Solutions employees, The Die-Gem Co., Inc loses control of the limits of the transfer of this knowledge. Omnova Solutions Inc. has thousands of employees. There is no recourse if an employee leaves Omnova Solution Inc.

1. Omnova Solution Inc. Representative has said they would have no way of using any information to gain an advantage over The Die-Gem Co., Inc.

Omnova Solutions Inc. does not know what is in the Confidential Information and therefore is not in the position to make that judgment.

U.S. Patent & TMO/TM Mail Rcpt Dt. #34

2. Omnova Solution Inc. Representative has said they are not competitors.

The Die-Gem Co., Inc. is literally surrounded by facilities of Omnova Solution Inc. in Akron Ohio.

- a. The Die-Gem Co., Inc. and Omnova Solutions Inc. are just like Goodyear and Goodrich they are confused by all and no one but the employees know the difference and this would be true of PEEL & STICK. The public just knows they came from that company in Akron, Ohio.
 - b. The Die-Gem Co., Inc. sells in the same markets and each potential customer has a finite budget for repairs and new structures. Omnova Solution Inc. continues to dilute the mark PEEL N STICK and does not care that it is diluting The Die-Gem Co., Inc. valuable asset.
 - c. The United States Patent and Trademark Office believes that Omnova Solution Inc. is competing with The Die-Gem Co., Inc. and that The Die-Gem Co., Inc. is currently using the mark PEEL N STICK and has future use of the mark and plans to continue to use the mark.
 1. The application(S) of Omnova Solution Inc. for the mark PEEL & STICK has been denied twice by The United States Patent and Trademark Office. The USPTO specific reason given was that the mark PEEL & STICK will be used in the same markets as the mark PEEL N STICK and therefore will be confusing to the customer base.
 2. The Die-Gem Co., Inc. did apply for a 10 year extension (March 22, 2005) of the mark PEEL N STICK and USPTO Renewal Department has granted an extension through (June 9, 2015) See attachment.
 3. The mark PEEL N STICK was registered on the PRINCIPAL REGISTER, BECAME INCONTESTABLE IN 1992, and continues to have that status.
3. Mr. Mermelstein, in your letter of July 30, 2005 you note that the exhibits were designated confidential.

Please note that the petitioner Omnova Solution Inc. was given the same CD provided to the TTAB. That CD contained the 19 page Answer, Motion to Dismiss and four classes of exhibits.

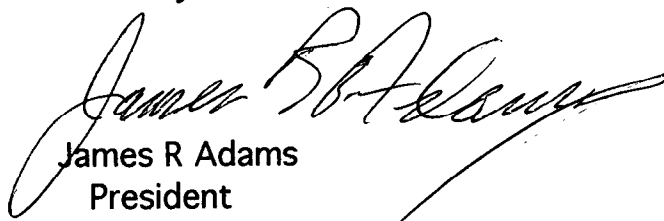

- a. There were 44 exhibits in the 1st class of exhibit.
- b. There were 24 exhibits in the 2nd class of exhibit.
- c. There were 17 exhibits in the 3rd class of exhibit.
- d. There were 12 exhibits in the 4th class of exhibit.

This is prima facie evidence of the use, continued use and depth of penetration of the mark PEEL N STICK in the market in this part of the answer.

The part of the answer marked confidential as noted in the 19 page non-confidential section contains a control list, some product specifications, R & D since 1995 and The Die-Gem Co., Inc. plan for action. There is fundamental information in this section marked confidential that any company even the petitioner Omnova Solution Inc. would not want known.

However there will be no doubt in the Board's conclusion after reviewing the Answer in its entirety as has already been concluded by the USPTO in accepting the proof and extending the PRINCIPAL REGISTER of the mark PEEL N STICK.

Sincerely

James R Adams
President
The Die-Gem Co., Inc.
